1. Scope

This is a River Clyde Homes Policy and therefore applies to Staff, Board and Committee members and it is also relevant to Home Fix Scotland (HFS) and a variety of stakeholders.

This policy describes the activities and responsibilities involved where current and former tenant rent accounts are in arrears. The term "rent arrears" applies to both rent and service charges.

The Rent Arrears Policy applies to all rented property owned or managed by River Clyde Homes (RCH).

2. Introduction

This policy outlines the way RCH will prevent, manage and recover arrears of current and former tenants.

At RCH we can only provide services and improve and maintain our housing stock if we have a steady rental income and minimal rent arrears. The prevention, management and recovery of rent arrears is a crucial element in the financial management of our organisation.

As a provider of social housing we understand that rent arrears are a major issue for our tenants and have a responsibility to provide advice and assistance to those experiencing financial difficulty.

To help our tenants avoid arrears and other tenancy related debts, RCH have a team of Housing Officers (HO) who provide a generic tenancy and rent management service and a Financial Wellbeing Team (FWT) who can help maximise incomes and improve the financial, social and economic inclusion of our tenants. This can reduce the impact of arrears on RCH.

As well as meeting our legal requirements, RCH will do everything it can to be as supportive and helpful as possible in preventing and managing arrears.

The following is a brief summary of the legislation that affects the recovery of rent arrears;

3. Definitions

The Scottish Social Housing Charter, (amended November 2022), sets the standards and outcomes that all social landlords should aim to achieve when performing their housing activities. The Charter will help improve the quality and value of services that a social landlord provide and supports the Scottish Government's long term aim of creating a safer and stronger Scotland. The Charter has 6 sections covering:

1. The customer/landlord relationship;
2. Housing quality and maintenance;
3. Neighbourhood and community;
4. Access to housing and support;
5. Getting good value from rents and service charges; and
6. Other customers.

It contains a total of 16 outcomes and standards that social landlords should aim to achieve.

Outcome 11 requires Social Landlords to ensure that tenants get the information they need on how to obtain support to remain in their home; and ensure suitable support is available, including services provided directly by the landlord and by other organisations. This outcome covers how landlords, on their own or in partnership with others, can help tenants who may need support to maintain their tenancy.

This standard includes tenants who may be at risk of falling into arrears with their rent, and tenants who may need their home adapted to cope with age, disability, health conditions or caring responsibilities.

Outcome 13 requires Social Landlords to manage all aspects of their businesses so that tenants, owners and other customers receive services that provide continually improving value for the rent and other charges they pay.

This standard covers the efficient and effective management of services. It includes minimising the time houses are empty; managing arrears and all resources effectively; controlling costs; getting value out of contracts; giving better value for money by increasing the quality of services with minimum extra cost to tenants, owners and other customers: involving tenants and other customers in monitoring and reviewing how landlords give value for money

4. Policy Statement and Responsibilities

RCH aims to prevent and minimise arrears owed by our tenants and will constructively and sensitively engage tenants who are in arrears in joint efforts to control and reduce the rent arrears.

The effective management of rent arrears is based on prevention and early intervention, containment of arrears and where necessary taking appropriate legal action against those who fail to pay rent.

RCH is committed to trying to prevent arrears occurring through early intervention. This involves providing comprehensive support and advice at all stages of the application, letting and tenancy process.

Applying for a house

At the point of applying for a home, applicants will be advised on their rental responsibilities including rent due one week in advance, methods of paying and the consequences of nonpayment of rent.

Applicants will also be provided with information on the support that can be provided by the FWT.

When offered an RCH tenancy

Applicants will be made aware of their rental responsibilities including one week's rent in advance, rent due dates and all other rent related information at the pre tenancy interview. RCH understands the need to ensure that all new and existing tenants are aware of the impact of Welfare Reform.

In order to ensure that tenancies are sustained all applicants, particularly those who have not had a previous tenancy or are deemed vulnerable, will be made aware of other associated costs e.g. Council tax, utility bills etc. Vulnerable customers will be supported to ensure there is a full understanding of the financial commitments involved in obtaining and maintaining a tenancy.

When signing the tenancy agreement

There will be an emphasis on making every new tenant aware of the importance of paying rent and service charges when signing for a tenancy. New tenants will be informed of the different methods available to pay rent and where appropriate encouraged to set up a direct debit.

The introduction of Universal Credit makes a fundamental change to the tenant/landlord relationship. Support will be offered to tenants from HO and FWT to ensure customers are equipped to pay their rent by providing income maximisation services and welfare benefit advice.

New tenant visits (Settling in visits)

In order to identify if there any tenancy sustainment issues including rent arrears all new tenants will be visited within 30 working days of start of the tenancy by a HO who can offer assistance or advice with any tenancy issues. Where there are arrears, the HO will advise the new tenant on what action they should be taking and the support that can be offered.

Existing Tenants

Tenants will be notified in writing, by phone, by text and e-mail, or by visit from staff as soon as an arrear is identified. HO will contact the tenant to discuss the arrear and if appropriate offer the services of the FWT.

Staff will try to have personal contact with the tenant where a rent arrear is causing concern. This will normally be when the rent arrear is increasing, or the tenant is not engaging with staff to deal with the arrear.

General Support to all tenants

As well as having easy access to HO, tenants will be offered the services of the FWT as appropriate. Our Housing Management System will be used to record accurately all actions taken and agreements made. In cases of cancelled housing related benefit, the FWT or HO will contact tenants to offer assistance.

All HOs are trained to have a working knowledge of welfare benefits and financial inclusion issues to enable them to be proactive in giving advice and support to tenants. To allow tenants to pay their rent in the way best suited to them RCH offers a variety of payment methods including housing benefit, direct debits, standing orders, telephone payments, payment cards and cheques. There is a financial advice page on the RCH website which contains advice on financial matters, welfare benefits and links to the money advice service and other budget planning tools.

Rent statements are available to tenants on request by the on-line tenant portal or by usual contact methods.

Control of rent arrears

RCH will maintain accurate and effective monitoring systems to identify arrears at an early stage. When arrears do occur the staff will make contact with the tenant within targeted timescales as set out in the arrears procedure.

Personal contact is a priority in dealing with arrears. This will be done by house visits, interviews in our office or phone calls. Staff will assist the tenant to try and prevent arrears escalating to a level where court action would be appropriate. At every level of arrear tenants will be encouraged to use the services of our FWT.

RCH will attempt to make a realistic and affordable arrangement with a tenant in arrears. This may include payments from benefits through third party deductions. The tenant will be given a written copy of the arrangement and be given clear advice on the possible consequences of not maintaining payments, including losing their home.

No escalated action will be taken while a tenant is paying in accordance with an agreed arrangement. Before a Notice of Proceeding (NOP) is served all the Pre Action Requirements must be met as set out in the Housing (Scotland) Act 2010.

Legal Action

RCH recognise that taking legal action against a tenant is a serious matter and we will only initiate legal action where the arrear is causing concern either by the level of the arrear and/or by the tenant not making reasonable efforts to address the issue. RCH will only evict for arrears as a last resort and will not evict a tenant who is actively engaging with RCH to reduce the arrears.

Delegated Authority

The Housing Services Manager, Area Housing Managers and HO (within the guidelines and procedures that form part of this policy) have delegated authority to take necessary action to control arrears, in full consideration of the individual circumstances of each case.

Managers will have the authority to pursue serious arrears through court action to the point of obtaining decree for repossession.

The decision on whether or not to enforce the decree will be taken by a Director who has been given delegated authority from the Board to approve evictions. A detailed report on the circumstances of the case is provided to the Director when eviction is recommended, and they will make the final decision. The number of evictions carried out are reported to the Board annually and the Services and Landlord Operations Committee at each committee meeting.

Notice of Proceedings

A Notice of Proceedings (NOP) will only be issued when all the Pre Action Requirements have been met. At the first stage a NOP will be issued to the tenant and everyone over the age of 16 staying at that address. Staff will take reasonable steps to ascertain who is living at the property. The NOP will clearly show the tenant the seriousness of the arrear and the association's intent to proceed with legal action unless action is taken to address the matter. The NOP will be hand delivered.

Once legal proceedings have been initiated by the NOP the association will continue to offer advice and support to try and avoid any cases reaching court.

Where arrangements to pay are not adhered to or the arrears are continuing to increase, the association will seek a decree for recovery of possession, payment and expenses where applicable.

Pre-Action Requirements

The Housing Scotland Act 2010 established the requirement for Registered Social Landlords to meet a number of conditions, together referred to as the Pre Action Requirements, and to document how they have done so, before beginning legal action to end a tenancy. The Associations Notice of Proceedings outlines where we have fulfilled the necessary requirements.

Section 11 Notices

RCH shall apply the duties expected of it within the provisions of Section 11 of the Homelessness etc (Scotland) Act 2003. Section 11 places a duty on landlords to inform the relevant local authority when they raise proceedings for possession of a property.

The duty applies to all landlords with the exception of local authority landlords themselves. The aim of placing a duty on landlords to inform local authorities of repossession proceedings is to alert authorities to households at risk of homelessness.

Local authorities have statutory duties to people who are homeless or threatened with homelessness and early notice of potential homelessness means that they may be able to respond on an individual basis. This might include the early provision of advice and information to tenants facing eviction, including discussion of rights and responsibilities.

Performance Monitoring and Complaints

Performance on rent arrears is monitored through the internal audit process, our benchmarking group, the SLOC and at Management Board level. RCH report details of our performance through our Annual Report and other forms of communication. The Scottish Housing Regulator receives our performance reports through the Annual Return on the Charter.

We have a Complaints Policy and Procedure that lets customers who are dissatisfied with our service raise a complaint. This includes complaints relating to equality matters. If a customer remains dissatisfied after using the complaints procedure they can appeal to the Scottish Public Services Ombudsman. This is in addition to their right to seek independent advice from a solicitor or any other appropriate body.

Additional Assistance offered by River Clyde Homes

In addition to meeting the legal requirements River Clyde Homes will be as helpful and supportive in managing arrears as possible by:

5. Equality, Diversity and Inclusion

An Equality Impact Assessment was undertaken and no negative impact on equality was identified.

RCH will apply this policy fairly and consistently. In implementing this policy, we will not directly or indirectly discriminate against any person or group of people because of their race, religion or belief, gender, disability, age, sexual orientation, or any other grounds. Our commitment to equality and fairness will apply irrespective of factors such as age, disability, gender reassignment, marital or civil partnership status, pregnancy or maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation, or other personal attributes.

6. Review
